Dear Parents and Guardians,

Times Tables Rock Stars

As you are aware we recently launched Times Tables Rock Stars as part of our Maths homework, and your child's teacher has been setting short daily sessions for your child to complete online. I would like to bring your attention to the importance of your child completing this homework every day. Repetition for short bursts of time daily is the most effective way to consolidate times table knowledge and to improve recall of these facts quickly. If your child does not complete this practise, this impacts on the amount of progress your child is making.

This week I have monitored the homework sessions set by your child's teacher and have noticed that your child has not completed at least 5 of the 7 daily sessions set each week. Please may I ask you to set aside a time each day for 5 minutes for your child to complete their times tables practise.

If you are having difficulty accessing the app or website, please let your child's teacher know so they can support you with this.

Yours sincerely
